Judicial Integrity Office at the Administrative Office

Employees may confidentially report workplace harassment or abusive behavior to the Judicial Integrity Officer, Jill B. Langley, by calling 202-502-1603. The Office of Judicial Integrity is available to all employees, managers, and judges for advice and guidance about workplace conduct matters.

The Judicial Integrity Officer can explain the resources available to employees to address their workplace conduct concerns, including available options for Informal Advice, Assisted Resolution, and how to file a complaint under their EDR plan or under the Judicial Conduct & Disability Act.

Judicial Conduct and Disability Contacts

The contacts below can answer questions about complaints filed under the Judicial Conduct and Disability Act of 1980 and the Rules for Judicial-Conduct and Judicial-Disability Proceedings, as well as other matters involving the possible misconduct or disability of a federal judge.
